Bls. 2	Agreement

between the Confederation of Icelandic Employers(SA) and Framsýn union on the interpretation of rights and legal status of Framsýn union members working on whale watching vessels.

General rights of whale watching employees are in accordance with the Collective Agreement between the Confederation of Icelandic Employers and Framsýn union for employees in the tourism sector (Collective Agreement between The Confederation of Icelandic Employers and The Federation of General and Special Workers in Iceland (SGS) for service and tourism)

The conditions and terms of employees may not be less than stated in the Collective Agreement at each time. However the following deviations from the stated Collective Agreement are in place for employees who are a part of a registered crew on whale watching vessels:

- Employees working at sea that are subject to the nautical laws no. 35/1985 of shall be subject to rights and duties of those laws, including article 36 regarding incapacity due to illness or injury.
- Provisions of the maritime laws no 34/1985 shall be in place for employees as applicable, including the provisions of paragraph 1 of article 172 on accident insurance.
- Due to the special status of whale watching employees and the lack of placement in a wage category in the applicable Collective Agreement, both parties agree that in the year 2013 the minimum wage for full employment, cf. article 1.4 of the Collective Agreement, as well as the hourly rate shall be the same as stated in the Collective Agreement between the Seamen´s Federation and The Federation of Icelandic Fishing Vessel Owners regarding wage guarantee and hourly rate. Further clarification of this is stated in the Proclamation regarding minimum wage insurance and hourly rate. During the upcoming wage negotiations parties shall reach a conclusion on the wage category for this work, with regard to its nature and responsibility.

Whale watching companies shall strive to provide employees with the necessary training courses to ensure they can execute their job with diligence and safety according to official requirements. During courses, arranged by the company for their employees, they shall receive the wage guarantee and reimbursement for accommodation and travel cost, as agreed upon, if the course is held away from the regular working area. The course cost shall be paid by the company.

Upon hiring the company shall issue a contract of employment with the employee since the employment is temporary; that is during the regular whale watching season. A contract of employment shall at least include working arrangement and payment for trips, also if the arrangement is for shifts, hourly rate or payment per trip.

Parties shall mutually assess if injury insurance according to maritime law sufficiently covers the nature of whale watching work and make suggestions for improvements if necessary.

Reykjavík, 9. ágúst 2013

Proclamation regarding minimum wage insurance and hourly rate

An agreement between the parties states for a temporary solution for whale watching employees pay conditions and terms. This employment has the special status that the Collective Agreement between the parties does not in full apply to rights and duties included in maritime and nautical laws. These employees are also subject to demands that do not apply to employees on land. Parties agree that the minimum wage categories for employees in tourism (Cat 5 and 6) do not reflect the nature and responsibility of the employment. Therefore the parties have agreed to base the 2013 salary on provisions in the Collective Agreement between the Seamen’s Federation and The Federation of Icelandic Fishing Vessel Owners. Parties agree to revise the wage category references in the upcoming wage negotiations in order to find an acceptable solution for both parties. This means that the minimum hourly rate for a general worker shall be ISK 1.313(updated 1 January 2016 to ISK 1.608). Added shift supplement shall be according to Chapter 3 of the Collective Agreement between The Confederation of Icelandic Employers and The Federation of General and Special Workers in Iceland (SGS) for service and tourism. It is agreed that this hourly rate is valid both for unscheduled and scheduled trips up to 173,33 hours per month. Further work shall be paid with overtime rate, minimum ISK 2.363 (updated 1 January 2016 to ISK 2.894). Payments for work during meal breaks are already included in these rates.

It is allowed to negotiate to include December and Vacation Supplements in the rates. If this method is chosen it must be stated in a contract of employment

Trip salary:

It is allowed to negotiate on a special trip salary that takes into consideration the stated hourly rates with added shift supplement according to Article 3.2 in the Collective Agreement between The Confederation of Icelandic Employers and The Federation of General and Special Workers in Iceland (SGS) for service and tourism. For trips lasting more than 4 hours, including trip preparation, the minimum payment per trip is:

	(updated rates from 1 January 2016):
Trip during 08:00 – 17:00 Mon-Fri:	ISK 6.432
Trips during 17:00 – 24:00 Mon-Fri:	ISK 8.555
Weekend trips:	ISK 9.326
All trips exceeding 43 per month:	ISK 11.576

Weekend and holiday supplements are according to the applicable Collective Agreement. Holiday pay is added to the salary according to Chapter 5 of the Collective Agreement.

It is allowed to pay a fixed hourly rate for all working hours with consideration to the work schedule of the employee. If weekends and holidays are a part of the schedule, that shall also be taken into consideration. An employee can ask for verification that the total outcome of the fixed hourly rate during his term of employment is not less than stated in this agreement.
